

Employer Manual Highlights

(First in a series)

The newly updated Colorado PERA Employer Manual has been posted to the Employer section of the PERA Web site. This article will provide a summary of the first three sections of the guide intended to assist employers about membership benefits and employer responsibilities related to PERA and the contribution reporting process. Subsequent Topics articles will summarize the other sections of the manual.

Section 1—Introduction

Section 1 provides a high-level description of PERA and includes the PERA Mission and Vision Statements, as well as contact information for employers and members.

PERA News Briefs

For more details on the following summaries, see the Latest News page on the PERA Web site.

Colorado PERA Outperforms Peers in Customer Service and Cost Containment

PERA outperformed similar pension agencies in customer service and cost containment, according to an analysis by CEM Benchmarking, a global company that analyzes pension fund performance.

The analysis compared PERA's performance in customer service areas such as telephone service, Web site capabilities, and initiation of pension payments at retirement. PERA scored well in each of these areas.

PERA accomplished this improved performance while containing costs, which decreased from a per-member cost of $65 in 2005 to $62 in 2006. This per-member cost was well below the median pension plan cost of $86 per member.

Colorado PERA Board Adopts Statement of Funding Policy

At the November 16, 2007, Board of Trustees meeting the PERA Board adopted the following Statement of Funding Policy.

Colorado PERA Reaches $15.5 Million Settlement With Qwest

PERA announced that it reached a $15.5 million settlement with Qwest, the Denver-based telecommunications company. A class action settlement with Qwest was announced on

Section 2—Employers and Colorado PERA

This section outlines the employer responsibilities and whom to contact at PERA if you need assistance in reporting contributions or would like to schedule a PERA benefits meeting for your employees. Section 2 lists a variety of PERA resources available to employers.

Section 3—Membership in Colorado PERA

Section 3 describes who must, by law, contribute to PERA. This section also has information on members who may select retirement plans other than PERA, and under what circumstances this is allowed.

January 5, 2006, but citing excessive attorney fees and an inadequate recovery, PERA elected to forego the class recovery and pursue its own action against Qwest.

By participating in the separate proceeding, PERA recovered an amount 38 times greater than it would have if it had remained a part of the class action lawsuit. PERA's approximate recovery as a part of the class would have been only $400,000.

Colorado PERA Retiree Indicted on Five Felony Counts for Manipulating Salary to Increase PERA Benefit

The Boulder County District Attorney's Office has indicted Ann Leslie Kane, a retiree of the Horizons Charter School in Boulder, on five felony accounts related to salary "spiking." Ms. Kane, the former Lead Teacher (principal) of the school, is alleged to have falsely reported performance-based payments she received to intentionally increase, or to "spike," the salaries upon which her PERA retirement benefit was calculated.

PERA staff reviews the salary history of all members who apply for retirement benefits before processing a retirement. In the case of Ms. Kane, documentation was submitted that falsely reported her performance pay as approved by the charter school board as merit pay which is considered salary, when in fact, the charter school board had not taken such action. When overpayment of benefits is detected by PERA staff, PERA reduces the benefit being paid to collect the amount of overpayment over time.

Regional training for employers on the Employer Manual is planned for early next year. Watch for details so that you can attend this informative training session.

Reporting the SAED

For payrolls ending on or after January 1, 2008, the Contribution Report Summary Sheet in the STARS online contribution system will automatically calculate the combined amount of the Amortization Equalization Disbursement (AED) and the Supplemental Amortization Equalization Disbursement (SAED) required on reported PERA-includable salary for your employees and rehired PERA retirees. The new Summary Sheet will be available online. We've included a sample of what the updated Summary Sheet will look like below. If you have questions about the AED, SAED, or other contribution reporting issues, please contact your Employer Representative at PERA.

401(k) Update

New Default Fund for the 401(k) and DC Plans

A recent regulation issued by the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) has determined that short-term funds such as The Northern Trust Short Term Fund should not be used as default funds. The DOL regulation outlines several options for default funds known as “qualified default investment alternatives” or QDIA funds. Based upon the DOL regulation, the Colorado PERA Board of Trustees has changed the default fund in the PERA 401(k) Plan and PERA DC Plan to the Dodge and Cox Balanced Fund. Default contributions made after December 23, 2007, will be invested in the Dodge and Cox Balanced Fund. Contributions made prior to December 23, 2007, to The Northern Trust Short Term Fund will not be transferred.

Members may log on to their account at www.copera.org and select the 401(k)/DC Plan link in the drop down box under Inquiry. Click on the Colorado PERA 401(k) and/or DC Plan link. Click on the Manage Investments link on the left-hand menu. Click on Change Elections. Members may allocate future investments by percentages on this page. Note that these elections will change investment elections for future contributions only. If members would like to change their current balance allocation, they should go to the Manage Investments section of the site and process a reallocation or a fund transfer.

Members may also call a Participant Services Representative at 1-800-759-7372 and select the 401(k)/DC Plan option. A representative will assist in making fund elections.

Members who defaulted by not selecting investment funds, do not need to do anything if they wish to have contributions after December 23, 2007, invested in the Dodge and Cox Balanced Fund.

Get Information about PERA Benefits from PERA

The importance of using PERA as a resource for your employees when they are considering retirement or when they terminate PERA-covered employment cannot be understated. A recent USAToday article (<http://www.usatoday.com/printedition/news/20071105/retirescam.htm>) told a story about a retired couple who were enticed into early retirement and ended up having to return to work after their financial planner exaggerated their retirement benefit. As USAToday notes, “Bad advice from brokers will be a rising problem as boomers exit jobs, regulators say.” While PERA cannot give financial advice, we are the best resource for PERA members who want to learn about their PERA benefits. We also have a variety of calculators on our Web site for members and retirees who wish to further their investment planning. <https://www.copera.org/secure/Calculators/Menu.jsp>

Colorado PERA Adds Socially Responsible Investment Option to its 401(k) and DC Plans

The PERA Board of Trustees has approved the addition of a Socially Responsible Investment (SRI) option to the PERA 401(k) Plan and PERA DC Plan. Beginning in January 2008, participants will be able to invest in the Pax World Balanced Institutional Fund (Ticker symbol: PAXIX).

PERA added the SRI option in part to fulfill the voluntary provisions of House Bill 07-1184, which required the PERA Defined Benefit Plan to divest from companies with active business operations in Sudan. The addition of the fund to PERA's 401(k) and PERA DC Plan offerings goes further by voluntarily complying with laws affecting the PERA Defined Benefit Plan and also satisfies requests made by plan participants for such a fund.

The Pax World Balanced Institutional Fund not only screens for Sudan investments, but is responsive to a more comprehensive array of social issues. The fund does not invest in companies significantly involved in the manufacture of weapons or weapons-related products, the manufacture of tobacco products, companies that are involved in gambling as a main line of business, or those that engage in unethical business practices.

Since the Pax World Balanced Institutional Fund is a balanced fund, participants may elect this option as their only investment fund and be diversified in their 401(k) and DC Plan portfolio.

PERA Benefits Meetings for Your Employees

Convenience is one of the largest motivators for learning. We want to make learning about Colorado PERA convenient for your employees. After all, Colorado PERA is one of the largest benefits that you provide to your employees throughout their careers.

PERA's Field Education Team can provide these educational sessions in your offices and schools. No rushing home for a quick dinner and driving to a meeting across town. During staff meetings, on employee development and training days, or near the end of the work day are great times to schedule a meeting. The Field Education Team will tailor the content and length of the meeting to best serve the needs of your staff, whether it's a large group or just a few employees. The Field Education Team has the depth of knowledge about Colorado PERA needed to answer member questions fully and completely.

Contact your Field Education Representative to schedule a meeting at your location.

Review the Colorado PERA Board of Trustees' statement on divestment.

Special Thank You to Employers

Thank you to all affiliated employers who allowed the PERA Field Education staff the opportunity to speak at their locations in 2007. We think it's important that our members get information about PERA from PERA—thank you for the opportunity to educate your employees!
